WEBINARS GO LIVE!

Don't miss this incredible business building tool

Synterra health is proud to announce the launch of it's new webinar program taking the opportunity globally.

As president, Steven Whittington says, "this is yet another major development as Synterra Health prepares itself for it's launch on the world wide stage. We are very excited with these webinars and already, through our trial runs, have seen a major increase in sponsoring right across the board."

To access these webinars cannot be easier. Just look out for the bulletin board that arrives in your inbox on a regular basis. Click on the appropriate link to be taken straight to the meeting room and remember to have your speakers turned on.

These webinars are powerful, and the PowerPoint presentation that accompanies them will impress you and your guests. You can forward the link to all your potential IBA's. For more information, contact customer service.
